

Die Heimat Tänzer (Homeland German Dancers)

Based out of Omaha, Nebraska, Die Heimat Tänzer (The Homeland German Dancers) have performed traditional German folk dances all over the world. Part of the Gauverband Nordamerika, which exists throughout North America promoting traditional folk dancing and costumes of Bavaria and the Tirol, Die Heimat Tänzer is dedicated to keeping the tradition of German folk dress and dancing alive within the American Midwest. While the organization's choir has entertained large numbers of visitors at Homestead National Monument of America in the past, this will be the first Homestead days event featuring dancing performances at the park.